THE DONOR HOME

Which is the oldest house in East Paterson? Is there one more than 100 years old? For some answers, let's visit a few places about town.

The first place we see is the Donor House, now occupied by the Baldechhi family. Stately, almost gigantic, it sits serenly on a small finger of land, bound on the East Greenwood Avenue, on the west by River Drive. White columns rise up to the second floor.

The question: how old? It has been placed by some in the year 1872, in 1874 by others.

Let us proceed down River Drive a bit. With your back to the river, you stand in front of the black - and - white Hillman house. It is owned by Mr. Arthur Hillman. It originally stood down nearer to Dundee Dam. When the dam had been built, it took quite a time for water to back up over the dam. When it did, it was decided that the house should be moved to higher ground-to where it now stands.

Again the question: how old? Construction on the dam began in 1864. The house had been there for a few years already when the dam was started-at least 110 years old.

Let us continue down River Drive. Here we stand in front of the residence of Mrs. Elsie Hillman. It bears the look of many seasons well. Brownstone walls gaze at a river they have seen everyday for many, many years.

Once more the question: how old? Quote, Mr. Hillman "Parts of that house date back to the Revolutionary Era."

Excitedly, perhaps, you may ask, "Can anyother building in town lay claim to that age?"

Yes, there is. We'll just back-track here, up River Drive, just the way we came-around the bend here, yes, that's the place. The sign read: GOODWIN'S.

Again, quote, Mr. Hillman, "Parts of Goodwin's also date back to Revolutionary times."

EAST PATERSON'S PASSING PARADE

IT'S NOT FANCY ...BUT IT'S GOOD!

The Office of Health, Safety and Physical Education of the State Department of Education conducted an inspection of Memorial High School cafeteria recently. Their report? GRADE A!! In a letter to School Superintendent Donald S. Lacey, state school lunch consultant Lilliam E. Young commented, "Feed is well prepared and attractively served. You are maintaining high nutritional standards by providing a variety of baianced lunches and serving a minimum of a la carte items..." Miss Young was lavish in her praise of Henry Welling who manages the cafeteria operation.

MERIT FOR DE MERRIT

For bravery in action in Viet Nam, Specialist-Five Daniel De Merrit, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis De Meritt of 562 Market Street, has been recommended for the Bronze Star. In a letter of commendation to De Meritt Major General W.E. De Puy stated: "I wish personally to commend you for your action in connection with the mining incident involving the Fourth Cavalry on the morning of April 16.....I was impressed and gratified by your immediate and decisive action in personally attempting to extricate the wounded from the armored personnel carrier. In my opinion you displayed all the best qualities of the American soldier and at the same time demonstrated courage, determination and a great feeling of compassion for your fellow soldiers."

FOR THE CARRIAGE TRADE....

Prizes will be awarded to the parents of babies born during East Paterson's Golden Jubilee celebration June 17, 18 and 19 the committee decided at last week's meeting. No decision yet as to what the prizes will be... someone suggested the baby be given his weight in diapers! How about an automatic 2 a.m. feeder-and-floor-walker?

AND FOR THOSE WHO AREN'T "EXPECTING"

The Committee will cite couples celebrating their 50th anniversary this year. Names of Golden Wedding anniversary celebrants should be forwarded to Mrs. Mary Chiapelli or Mrs. Lawrence Pulzone, or mailed to the committee: P.O. Box 222, Municipal Building.

FOCUS ON FACT

By Gertrude E. Unsel

CAESAR'S MILLIONS: In a recent address given at St. Anne's hall in Fair Lawn, our distinguished Congressman made careful reference to the "constitutionality" of federal aid to parochial and private schools. We have all heard that broken record about "violation" of the First Amendment if public money is used for church-related schools. It is bad to "violate" the First Amendment but quite all right to violate the whole Constitution, it seems.

Search the Constitution from beginning to end. See if you can find one clause which empowers the Federal Government to engage in educational activities. The phrase "general welfare", given as authorization by the learned Congressman, is not a power of Congress at all. it is merely part of the introduction. The powers of government follow after that. They are specifically spelled out for the executive, legislative and judicial branches. All "implied" powers have been "implied" only by the social planners and other vested interests.

Our Founding Fathers worded the Constitution carefully. They knew that from past history one of the roads to tyranny is by way of government control over the minds of the young. We have seen it happen in modern times under the three European forms: nazism, fascism and communism.

Certainly, parochial and private schools have as much right to federal money as public schools. But sending tax money to Washington and receiving half of it back, does not make sense. And why should we allow Washington to control our schools?

The Congressman made some funny jokes about the collection plate in church. With the Federal government already taking the first fruits of our labor (to the tune of 20% to 92%) for federal aid to everything, how much will be left for the collection plate if federal aid keeps expanding?

Federal aid always means Federal control. We have seen it in the national testing programs, one of which was used in our school system here until it was exposed. Another example is the case where the government forced St. John's University, Brooklyn, to reinstate two students it had expelled for violation of church law. Obviously federal funds were involved otherwise the government could never have interfered.

Prayers have been banned in the public schools. Will prayers, statues and crucifixes be abolished in parochial schools if federal aid is accepted? After all, the Madelyn Murrays will be entitled to send their children to the parochial schools if they become federally subsidized. These people can then complain about the religious symbols in the classrooms and they can depend on the Supreme Court decision to back their compiaint.

Former Commissioner of Internal Revenue, T. Coleman Andrews said: "Federal aid to the States isn't Federal aid at all; it's the exact opposite. It's State aid to the Federal Government."

Telephone Co. Joins Police In War vs. Annoyance Calls

New Jersey Bell Telephone Co. security teams and local police are joining forces in an all-out campaign against annoyance calls. And initial indications are that the effort is meeting with success.

No statewide figures have been compiled as yet, but police and the telephone company agree that there appears to be an increase in the number of arrests and convictions on obscene and nuisance calls complaints.

The telephone company's part in the drive includes the use of call-tracing devices as well as a program of assistance to customers who have been victimized. The program is built around specially-trained personnel assigned in each company district. They interview customers who report annoying calls, they suggest defensive measures and they work closely with police in tracking down the callers.

The tracing procedure does not involve listening-in on a telephone conversation. One type of equipment registers calls made from one phone to another and the time the calls are made. When it's zeroed-in on the line of a suspect, it provides a list of the numbers called from his telephone and when the calls were placed.

When this information is pieced together with the report of the person to whom the obscene call was made, the police can obtain evidence enough for an arrest. The penalty, on conviction, can be as much as a year in jail, a $1,000 fine or both.

Another tracing process, which can't be used in all cases because of technical limitations, involves standard test equipment that is part of many central offices. The equpment can be adjusted to print a card every time a call is received by a selected telephone, and in certain cases, it will print the calling number.

The cooperation of the person receiving objectionable calls is essential to the program. The telephone company and the police urge that persons receiving abusive, obscene or annoying calls keep a log that includes the time, duration and other characteristics of the call.

This information forms a pattern that in many cases, points straight to a suspect. Those receiving the calls should be prepared to sign complaints and follow through with prosecution when the suspect has been arrested, the police and telephone company added.

The telephone company suggests several steps the telephone user can take to discourage obscene callers. The most obvious is hanging up the phone as soon as the nature of the call becomes clear.

It also cautions against giving personal information too freely to strangers. Before answering questions, the housewife should know to whom she is speaking and what purpose her answers will serve.

Tracing calls and arresting criminal callers is often complicated New Jersey Bell points out.. But the combined efforts of police and telephone company security teams are paying off. .

Police officials point out that a large percentage of suspects say when they are picked up that they wouldn't have done it if they had known their calls could have been traced, and all of them are surprised that they are traced.

the NEWS - RECORD was delivered. Hizzonner gently chided us regarding an article which appeared in last Tuesday's edition...and he was right...100%! Seems the article stated the Grandway organization had already cut down the curbs for exits on 53rd Street. This was erroneous... they have not cut through the curbs...they have merely marked them for possible cut through. Sorry about that,.... Mayor! Seriously, we apologize for the error and thank Mayor St. George for calling it to our attention.

ENCOURAGING....

Library Director Stanley Itkin feels that's the word to describe the Mayor and Council's action in setting aside $10,000 this year from the capital outlay account towards a new borough library building on the Boulevard. Said Itkin: "For years we've been pleading and planning for a new library which can accommodate at least 50,000 volumes. Up to now we have had very little encouragement. However, we now have a reason to believe that a new library will be forthcoming in the not too distant future."

FOR LAND'S SAKE!

A tentative agreement has been reached by the Mayor and Council regarding a land exchange which will be the first step in accumulating a 10-acre site for possible use in the future as grounds for an elementary school. Board Attorney Lucien Baron has been given the green light for proceeding with a resolution to negotiate the land swap with the M & N Realty Company represented by Attorney Arthur Minuskin of Fair Lawn. If all details are negotiated satisfactorily, the realty firm which owns eight unimproved lots in the 10-acre site off the Boulebard near Lee Street (valued at $25,000) would swap this land for three borough owned improved plots on Phillip Avenue (also valued at $25,000).

SEEKS NEW CIVIL DEFENSE BUILDING...

Because of poor existing storage facilities, Civil Defense Director George Neubert pointed out to the Mayor and Council that much valuable material has rotted away. In view of this Neubert has requested a new building to store the supplies, vehicles and equipment. The C-D Director's letter of request has been referred for study.

OPPOSE LIQUOR LICENSE....

The P.T.A. Council last week in a letter to the Mayor and Council went on record as opposing the granting of a liquor license to the Town House Motel. The letter, signed by Mrs. Lester Jacobi, Corresponding Sect., stated in part: "Since we are of the opinion that the granting of a liquor license to a motel directly opposite a school is contrary to the best interests of the children, we advise you that as a parent's organization, we shall take any steps we deem necessary to protect the welfare of the children."

CONGRATULATIONS!

Mr. and Mrs. Wontor were married May 8, 1948 in St. Stanislaus Kostka Church in Garfield. They have three children, John Jr., Ellen and David Scott. Mrs. Wontor is the former Evelyn Kosut of East Paterson.

OPENINGS....

The New Jersey Civil Service Department has issued a new schedule of competitive tests for appointment to varied positions. Included in the list are tests for positions in our Boro as follows: Bookkeeping Machine Operator, $3,900 to $5,000; Bookkeeping Machine Operator with knowledge of typing, $3,900 to $5,000. Applications may be obtained at Boro Clerk's office in Municipal Building. Deadline for filing: May 31.

"....TO WATCH THE MERCURY CLIMB..."

That line from a perennially popular song, " 'Tis Autumn", doesn't seem to apply in the case of the "Thermometer" on Municipal Field. This particular thermometer is supposed to register the amount of contributions received by the Ambulance Corps in their drive for a building to house vehicles and equipment. Unfortunately, the "mercury" in this particular thermometer seems to have been "frozen" for, lo!, these many, many weeks! Let's get behind this effort and really "....watch the mercury climb!"

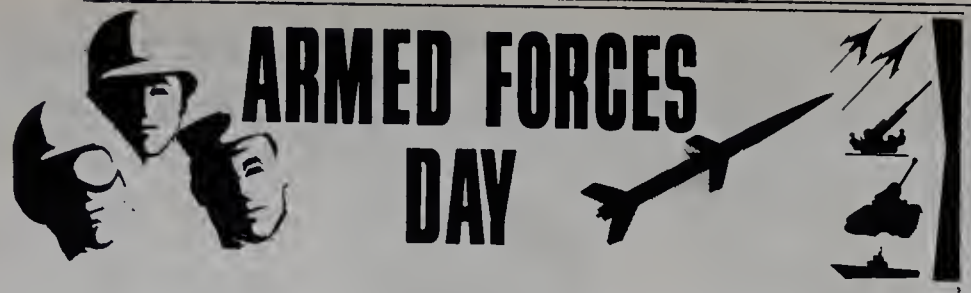
ROBERT "SCOTTY" BECKETT



National Guardsmen stationed at the Paterson Armory are anticipating a large turnout Saturday, May 21st for their annual Armed Forces Day Spectacular. There will be no admission charged for the open house affair.

Armed Forces Day is celebrated each year at every military installation in the nation and abroad to pay homage to the servicemen, both living and dead.

Col. William L. O'Dea, Commander of the Third Brigade of the 50th Armored Division, appointed Major Gregory Howarth as chairman of the Annual Drum and Bugle Corps Exhibition.

This year's program features seven local drum and bugle corps, including the National Champion Hawthorne Caballeros who will begin performing at one o'clock, Saturday afternoon.

Major Howarth said: "Here's a wonderful opportunity for students from neighboring high schools to see how a championship Drum and Bugle Corps operates, and it also offers the public a chance to see how their local National Guard Units function. We expect to make this a most enjoyable program for all who attend."

Other Drum & Bugle Corps to perform include the Garfield Cadets, St. Brendan's Cadets, Oakland Rangers, Lakeland Goldenaires, Lamplighters Jr. Drum and Bugle Corps and the West Paterson Royalaires. Each corps will perform inside the Armory, which is located at 475 Market Street, Paterson in "fair or foul weather" Major Howarth said.

Sponsoring the exhibition and the open house are Headquarters and Headquarters Co. of the Third Brigade; Co. C Second Battalion of the 113th Infantry; Co. D of the 50th Medical Battalion; the 104th Medical Detachment and the 2nd PLT, 253rd Transportation Company.

Councilman James V. Goodwin REPORTS to the People

LIQUOR LICENSE

I cannot see how the Mayor and Council can justify the issuance of a liquor license to the Town House Motel, adjacent to the Gantner Avenue School. I strongly urge my colleagues to deny this application, regardless of their contention that they meet state requirements.

Let me remind my fellow officials that when the Town House Motel was granted a building permit, it was stated, and, I believe included as part of the agreement, that they would never apply for a liquor license.

Morally, asking now is wrong because a "passage of time" surely doesn't change requirements and conditions agreed on when the building permit was granted.

We, as officials, have also a MORAL obligation to protect our taxpayers and our children. The proximity of the Gantner Avenue School, the welfare of the children attending and living in this area, are far more important than the issuance of a liquor license to this motel.

I feel that besides the moral obligation, we have a legal responsibility as elected officials to deny this application and leave the legal limit of liquor licenses at its present limit. As a matter of fact, I feel that we are over-subscribed with licenses as it now stands. WE NEED NO MORE.

If the owners still pursue the license, let them secure it from the State over our objections. I see no reason why we should not live up to our legal and moral responsibilities and listen to the good sound reasoning as voiced by the many objections of the Board of Education, the PTA's and the parents of our school children.

To my fellow elected officials, I URGE THEM TO DENY WITHOUT RESERVATION THIS LIQUOR LICENSE APPLICATION. Our Borough stands to gain nothing whatsoever and I firmly oppose the issuance of any more liquor licenses in our Boro.

LAND SWAP

Regarding the proposed land swapping discussed at the last Council Work Meeting (which I could not attend because of illness), at a previous meeting I had questioned the need of hiring an outside appraiser. The Mayor and Council accepted my recommendation that our Borough Assessor was not only qualified, but that this was one of his duties as assessor. Mr. Perry's evaluation figures and comparative value of property owned by prospective builders, are proof enough that the expenditure for an outside appraiser is not necessary, and therefore we can accomplish a substantial savings to our taxpayers.

I have no objection to the proposed land swap, but feel that we should set a time limit to determine if a new school is needed, and that after a report from the Board of Education it should be put on referendum and left up to the people to make the final decision.

A binding stipulation as to the future determination of the use of this property should be given to the taxpayers by this Mayor and Council, should the need for a new school not figure in our future educational program.

Word of the Lord Teachings

II Thess. 3:1

WARREN F. YOUNG

Pastor
First Presbyterian Church

"Whole-Hearted Praise"

What will you do today? Oh! I plan to do this and that; and then I will--, and so it goes. Sometimes I wonder if we ever take God into our thoughts when we are planning to do this or that? If we did we might find that our thinking and planning would sound radically different. For instance we note the Psalmist David as he tells us what he is going to do; and how strange it sounds to our ears! "I will praise Thee, O Lord, with my whole heart; I will show forth all Thy marvelous works. I will be glad and rejoice in Thee, I will sing praise to Thy name, O Thou most high!" Ps. 9:1,2.

Just observe the flavor of some of the leading verbs in these verses: "praise, show, glad, rejoice, sing!" Consider. Would these be the verbs that characterize your day too? Or is your day characterized more with such verbs as criticize, hide, sorrow, moan, hollar, etc.?

Just for today why don't you try one or two of the actions implied in the leading verbs used by the Psalmist David? For instance the Psalmist claims he will "Praise" the Lord with his "Whole Heart". You want to especially note that this is no half-hearted or divided praise offers; but whole hearted. Trouble with some Christians is that they are all too often offering half-hearted praise to the Lord, for the other half of their heart is someplace else! They will go along with God part way, but if things get too rough, they seem to relinquish their religious stand or beliefs! We must choose. One can't serve God and Mammon both. Commit your total life to Him. Don't hold back any part of it, then you will be able to praise Him with your whole heart. Are you in a position today to be able to say with the Psalmist "I will praise Thee, O Lord, with my whole heart"? If not, then your religion will be more of a hindrance than a help to you. Perhaps there is some area or two of your life that you have not really commited to the Lord? Bow your head in prayer and do it now! Then you will also be able to say with the Psalmist, "I will be glad and rejoice in Thee." Then you shall be able to praise Him with the whole heart.

THE MINISTER'S MESSAGE

John 12:48

"He that rejecteth me, and receiveth not my words, hath one that judgeth him: the word that I have spoken, the same shall judge him in the last day."

Let me confront my soul with this solemn truth. The word of Jesus is to be my judge. In a court of justice the judge pronounces the sentence, but it is the law that condemns the criminal. In the same way, the Lord Jesus as the final judge, will pronounce my sentence; but it is the Word which judges and condemns.

How solemn then is the relation in which we stand to the words of Jesus! We have been familiar with them from the time that we first heard them. They will remain in our memory and will rise up to witness against us at the judgement. They would carry their own condemnation with them even though the judge were silent. But the words which Christ spoke were words of mercy. O, how dreadful to be condemned by the very words which Christ spoke in mercy and for our salvation!

Think, O my soul, have I declined his words of warning; have I rejected his words of promise; have I perverted his words of mercy into words of judgement? But the Christian who obeys Christ's words need have no apprehension. "There is no condemnation to them that are in Christ Jesus" Christ himself will witness for them saying, "I gave them my words and they received them, for they are thine, and all thine are mine, and I am glorified in them.'

In all the ways acknowledge him, and he shall direct thy paths. Proverbs 3:6

There were two ways for Israel to travel from Egypt to Canaan. The shorter route was north along the Mediterranean seacoast through the land of the Philistines. The longer route was through the way of the wilderness of the Red Sea. (Exodus 13:17,18) God did not allow Moses to choose the shortcut. He led the people of Israel the long way round.

SHORTCUTS ARE NOT ALWAYS THE BEST WAY. Had Israel chosen the shortcut, she would have immediately encountered the Philistines, a nation trained in the art of war, and no doubt would have become discouraged and turned back. Israel needed the wilderness experience before she could enter Canaan and conquer it.

Christ is our Way- the only Way to that "better land". He said, "I am the way...no man cometh unto the Father, but by me." He will have us avoid certain shortcuts, but He knows best and is moving in our behalf. No matter how mysteriously He moves, how long it takes, or how futile it seems, let us give Him the lead in our lives. He is the Way!

Pantano's Nine Wins In Extra Innings, 5-4

EAST PATERSON — With John Pecdraro smashing two trinles, Pantano's defeated American Legion Post No. 147, 5-4, in a National Junior League baseball game, here. Mike Scarpa emerged as the winning pitcher in the extra inning contest which was decided when Mikc Scarda singled across Johnny Tomesco.

ALL IN THE GAME

by Steve Quinlan

Midnight, May 11, was the last day for the Major League teams to cut their rosters to the player limit of 25. The New York Mets sent infielder Lou Klimchock and catcher Choo Choo Coleman outright to Jacksonville and optioned pitcher Darrell Sutherland to Jacksonville. I really thought the Mets would keep Sutherland but everyone knew that Klimchock and Coleman were doomed.

The New York Yankees made two of the worst transactions ever first, they buy Dick Schofield from SanFrancisco and then they send Jack Cullen to Toledo. Schofield will probably be put at shortstop while Clete Boyer is moved back to third where he belongs. This means that Tom Tresh will go back to the outfield along with Mantle, Maris, and White. Unfortunately, you can only play three outfielders at one time so you figure this one out.

The second and most amazing transaction was the farming out of Jack Cullen. In one of my past articles I wrote that Jack Cullen was one of the best pitchers on the team and I still think so. I don't think I'll ever understand why there is room on the roster for guys like Bouton, Ramos and Friend, but not for Cullen.

In the NBA draft which was also held on May 11, nothing unexpected occurred. The New York Knicks, as predicted, drafted Cazzie Russell of Michigan. This guy is going to be a real superstar. He is about 6'6" tall and would make a really fantastic forward. Most people believe this is where he will play but don't be surprised next year if you discover that Russell is playing at guard; just remember that I predicted it.

Gillio to Receive Brother Wolfe Award

The first recipient for the Brother Anthony J. Wolfe Award will be Mario Gillio, formerly a student at Don Bosco Technical High School. The presentation will be made Wednesday night at the annual Youth Week Banquet at the Alexander Hamilton Hotel.

On Nov. 14, at a testimonial dinner honoring Brother Anthony J. Wolfe of the Don Bosco School, Mayor Frank X. Graves announced he was setting up an award which will be in the name of Brother Wolfe and given annually to Paterson's outstanding high school (parochial and public) athlete.

The trophy will remain prominently displayed in Don Bosco Technical High School with the honored athlete's name inscribed yearly. A smaller replica of the larger award will be presented to the recipient. The two Brother Anthony J. Wolfe trophies will he displayed at Wednesday night's dinner.

The Paterson Board of Recreation selection committee was unanimous in its judgment of Gillio, whose name may lead the parade of future outstanding athletes. Gillio, while attending Don Bosco was co-captain of the baseball team, and selected catcher on the Paterson News' All-Area team, All-State team, All-County-team, and All-Catholic team.

During his high school career he compiled a .374 batting average, and was drafted hy the Houston Astros.

JUNIOR GUN CLUB

BY BOB PETERSON + JOE BERMAN

The big news of the week is that the East Paterson Junior Gun CIub has received a special invitation from Ridgefield Park to march in their annual 4th of July parade. We are honored to have received this privilege and hope that by then all of the club members will be sporting our new uniform, which consists of blue cowboy genes, a jacket, a black cowboy hat, and if possible a new club patch.

On the competitive front there is not much news as of late. Last season we showed a poor 1-3 record. At the last match, against Fair Lawn, we were on our way to an easy victory when in the waining moments they made a brilliant come - from - behind effort to defeat us. This year we are expecting to have a very busy season as at this time we are considering entering a regular league sponsored by a Ridgewood club. Also at this moment we are planning a match with the Woodridge club. There are two reasons why we expect to have a successful year. First, many of our shooters have another years practice and experience under their belts, and second, the addition of club leader Joe Berman to our adult leadership will free instructor Bob Peterson to devote more time to coaching. At any rate we are sincerely hoping for a winning season.

In other club business, nominations were opened for next seasons slate of officers. The names of the winners will be announced in the near future. Also it was decided to send letters to the state legislators from Bergen County expressing our unanimous opposition to the gun registration bill as introduced by Attorney General Sills.

As our town celebrates its 50th anniversary this year, we hear many people talking about the "good old days" and the way people lived and how they traveled and how they enjoyed themselves, way back when. We look at some old pictures and sort of smile at the way people dressed and say, "Golly, did we really look like that?" But I think they were the "good old days."

As a young hunter I remember the abundance of game in East Paterson. The rabbits and woodcock on the Hillman Farm and the quail on Cherry Hill. The pheasants on the big, open field, which is now Boro Field and the Garfield Water Works. In those days you didn't need a car... you just walked out of your house into the field. Again, I say, they were the "good old days!"

I did a little woodchuck hunting this past weekend in New York State with my son, John, and my good friend, George Miller. We saw a lot of chucks and got a few. I think we'll do better in a couple of weeks when the grass is a bit higher.

The salt water fisherman is beginning to get some breaks with some fine weather and cooperation from the fish. For the past two weeks, mackerel have held the spotlight and now reports indicate that fluke are being taken in the Manasquan and Shark River inlets. Quite a few blacks and ling were taken on the part boats. Flounders are still being caught, mostly out on the Island, both North and South shores. The surf fishermen are having a little better luck with stripers from Island Beach. So I would say, pack up your gear this weekend and give it a try....you're bound to connect.

MILLIONAIRES

Recent issues of TIME Magazine and the NEW YORK TIMES Magazine carried feature articles concerning millionaires. Their conclusion: In no other nation, at no other time, have the chances of getting rich been so good as they are right here and now. The rich among us are flourishing as never before, reports Herman P. Miller, a special assistant to the Director of the Census Bureau. And not only millionaires but multi-millionaires as well. According to estimates published by the National Bureau of Economic Research, the United States had 27,000 millionaires in 1953. More recent figures prepared by the board of governors of the Federal Reserve System show that by 1962 the number of millionaires had risen to 67,000. Since Government estimates show that in recent years the number of millionaires has been increasing at the rate of about 5,000 a year, U.S. NEWS and WORLD REPORT is probably close to the mark when it says the number now stands at 90,000. How do they do it? Their common denominator is that they find an economic need and fill it. There is a mistaken impression that most millionaires are men. The men may make the money in the first place, but somehow or other the women manage to get their hands on it. The holders of big wealth are as likely to be women as men, while the holders of very big wealth are much more likely to be women. Why? At best, the answer is speculative according to the NEW YORK TIMES Magazine. It may be the greater durability of women. Men who work hard for a lifetime may barely squeak out an estate of $1 million before they die. Women who inherit these fortunes live on to reap the harvest. Another possibility is that a lot of very rich old men marry young women who outlive them and inherit their wealth. Or can it be that women are just smarter than men and invest more wisely? Compared with the millionaires of a century ago, the new millionaires are harder-working, less flamboyant and more anonymous.

They have made their fortuned not in steel, oil, railroads, and other basic industries, but in the frontier technologies, the newest services and even the arts. They have built productive wealth by creating jobs, purchasing power and useful ideas. The average age of the average millionaire is about 60, with women just slightly younger than the men. However, a remarkable number of these doers, drivers, achievers become millionaires before they reach 40.

JULIUS DECIO

Typical are these six talented tycoons featured in TIME: Mobile Manufacturer-Arthur Julius Decio, 35, of Elkhart, Ind., is a millionaire because he early recognized and exploited the billion-dollar-a-year market for low-cost mobile homes. President of Skyline Homes, one of the industry's largest producers, he is worth over five million dollars. His company expects to race along with the fast expansion of the two population groups that buy most mobile homes: young marrieds and retired oldsters. Decio started in the garage behind his childhood home in Elkhart, which is next to, and on the wrong side of, the New York Central Railroad tracks. His father, an Italian immigrant grocer, sank some savings into mobile homes in 1951, but did poorly and begged Art to try to rescue the small company. Decio, then a steel salesman, put in $3200 of his own, recruited three friends and started to work. He quickly saw that Skyline, to survive in a crowded field, would have to build a unique model. He designed a 20-foot, smaller-than-usual mobile home that was cheaper and more easily transportable than competing models. Then Decio imitated the automakers' methods - frequent model changes, and nation-wide distribution through a network of dealers. He brought out four lines of mobile homes, each competing with the others. "Such a system works for General Motors," Decio says, "and it works for us."

CHARLES BLUHDORN

Man of Many Parts - Charles Bluhdorn, 39, Manhattan-based chairman of Gulf & Western Industries, a widely diversified company specializing in auto parts, began as a penniless immigrant. Vienna-born, he came to Manhattan at 16, went to work as a $15-a-week clerk in a cotton brokerage house. At 23, he invested $3,000 and started his own export - import business. Within eight years he had bagged his first million, by buying an awful lot of coffee from Brazil. Bluhdorn used his profits to buy into a more secure and promising business: auto replacement parts. In a Balkanized industry that has thousands of small suppliers, he knit together a nation-wide network of manufacturing plants, warehouses and distributors. Today Bluhdorn's $182 million-a-year Gulf & Western controls 57 subsidiary companies, and has branched into the manufacture of jet-engine parts, guitars, and survival equipment for spacemen. He also controls the East's 197-store Bohack supermarket chain.

Election of officers will be held at the first meeting in June. Please plan to attend these two very important meetings, and to participate in the election of your officers for this coming year. As spelled out in our By-Laws, this is the month that we decide the future of our organization for the coming year. MRS. STANLEY OLEJARZ

George Olejarz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Olejarz of 72 Elm St., Saturday at St. Leo's R.C. Church.

The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Samuel O'-Connor. A reception for 100 guests was held at Johnny's Hall, Clifton.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a silk organza gown featuring a Chantilly lace bodice and a chapel train. Her fingertip veil fell from a crystal and pearl headpiece and she carried white baby carnations and ivy with an orchid.

Mrs. Louis Semoraro of Garfield, the bride's sister, was matron of honor in a mint green satin and lace floor-length gown with matching accessories. Her bouquet was an arrangement of mint green baby carnations.

Bridesmaids, similarly attired in maize and carrying yellow carnations, were Mrs. Steven Hudak of Garfield, cousin of the bride, and Miss Lorraine Olejarz of East Paterson, the bridegroom's sister.

Mr. Semoraro, the bride's brother-in-law, was best man. Ushers were Mr. Hudak and Al Irvin of Pennsylvania.

Linda Calvanese, niece of the bride, was flower girl, gowned in maize.

The mother of the bride wore a turquoise dress with matching accessories and a white rose corsage. The bridegroom's mother selected a pale blue dress with matching accessories and a gardenia corsage.

For a wedding trip to the Pocono Mountains, the bride chose a sky blue knit jacket dress, with harmonizing accessories and a white orchid corsage. On their return, the newlyweds will reside at 167 Charles St., Garfield.

Mrs. Olejarz and her husband are both graduates of East Paterson Memorial High School.

She is with Kreisler Industrial Corp. Mr. Olejarz is a member of the New Jersey National Guard and is a typewriter serviceman with Page and Gordon Co., Maywood.
